

“This new center will help WestCare advance its mission of helping those who’ve fallen on tough times get back on their feet and provide for their families,” said Costa. “The best thing we can do to help at-risk families is to provide them a safe and secure environment in which to recover. WestCare plays a vital role in our communities, and this expansion will allow them to better serve Valley residents in need.”

Background

The facility being expanded is a new children’s center for individuals in WestCare’s residential program. The expansion involved constructing a 1,300 sq. ft. addition to their women and children’s wing. WestCare is one of the largest not-for-profit health agencies in the U.S. and provides critical behavioral and social services to Valley families.